

THAT'S PART OF THE BARGAIN

The other day we heard a wise shoemaker say he couldn't afford charge accounts. Neither can we. In spite of the fact that we do the largest retail grocery business in the world, we can't afford to wait for our money.

That's our conviction, and we've got to stick to it if we're going to run our affairs economically and efficiently and supply our enormous public with good food at low prices.

A small profit on each item sold—that's all we'll ask if you keep your part of the bargain and pay for everything you buy when you buy it. As far as that goes, it's best for both of us. It helps to keep us both out of debt, which is good for your digestion and peace of mind, and good for our business.

Walter Hiers, Screen Funnyman, Here for Rest Between Films

BY HERR CLARK.

One swell guy, this Walter Hiers is. He's a look to be, though. The biggest piece of sarcasm ever showed off on a bewildered world was the one about nobody loving fat men. And Walter's nearly six feet looks like about four until you reach right out and try to top him.

Walter weighs, to hear him tell it, "about four and a half ounces less than the first horse you come to." Of course it's pretty hard to contact horses at 10:30 of a city evening, but the idea is there.

Walter, you'll recall, is one of the screen's better and bigger (double entendre, right away) comedians. He's the Corleone boy who made good. An hour in Walter's presence asks for more. A fellow walks into the Fox theater's managerial offices. And there's Walter and Carter Barron, the manager in person, talking. Funny thing about gabfests with Walter. They can start out plenty serious, but blam! goes a gag and it's no gabfest any more.

It develops during the course of the office session that Walter has made a flying trip from Los Angeles, bound for Cordell. Walter's mother died last January, and Walter is back for some business about the will. Four days and four nights on a Pullman are too much right now, though, and bed is the luxury to be sought.

It further develops that within a week he will start back to the coast. Pictures are crying to be made. And that's good news. Walter was one of the best in past days, but at the advent of the talkies he dropped out and went on the vaudeville swing. He returned and has just finished two pictures. And there are more ahead. It's a cinch they'll be fine.

That brings the evening up to just before the close of the stage show at the Fox. Walter wants to go back-stage to see an old friend, Gene Morgan, who headlines the bill and does one sweet job of it. Your correspond-

PRESS OF ITALY STORMS AT POPE

Italian Answer to Encyclical Expected To Be Long Delayed.

ROME, July 7.—(AP)—A noticeable tendency on the part of Vatican City to smooth over ill feelings created by the pope's encyclical met with increased bitterness today on the part of the Italian press.

A government spokesman indicated that the Italian reply to the last papal note would not be forthcoming for a considerable time and that it would be anything but friendly.

Osservatore Romano, Vatican newspaper, published a long editorial defending the method of publishing the encyclical abroad, despite the fact that diplomatic negotiations were in progress, by saying the government issued a resume of its last note for publication contrary to the rules of diplomacy. Osservatore stressed the words with which the pontiff closed his encyclical hoping for peace.

Lavoro Fascista replied with the alleged revelation of a plot between Don Sturzo, former head of the popular party, now in exile, and Monsignor Pizzardo, papal undersecretary of state and former leader of Catholic Action. The newspaper says Sturzo and Pizzardo and Count Della Porta, editor of Osservatore, and Augusto Ciriaci, president of Catholic Action, planned to raise a counter revolution to the fascist revolution, using Catholic Action as the machinery and economic depression as the lever for it.

Lavoro says that Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, strongly disapproved and that when he saw the group carrying out the plans despite his disapproval he asked the pope's permission to resign. Lavoro says it believes Cardinal Pacelli repeated his request within the last few days to be appointed to a vacant see in Florence.

ent trails along. To prolong the visit with Walter and to meet Gene and—well, there ARE some girls back there. So what?

And does that turn out to be old home week for Walter? He knew Gene was there, but he didn't know that there were a million others back there with whom he'd played in his vaudeville days. There's Jan and Jean and Jerry, three cute, cute youngsters who were in the same unit for some time. And others by armfuls. It's a celebration, that's all. That trouble bed calls, though. So Walter tears away. He's got to look after affairs for a while, but he'll be back. And then to Los Angeles and pictures.

Swell guy, this Walter Hiers. "Well four and a half ounces less than a horse . . ." he weighs. And every ounce of it fun.

ADVANCEMENTS IN FISHER CONSTRUCTION make the new OLDSMOBILE BODIES STRONG, QUIET and SERVICEABLE

Many advantages of the new Oldsmobile's finer Fisher bodies will be apparent as soon as you examine the car. You will discover new grace and beauty. Smart new tailoring and appointments add to the attractiveness and luxury of body interiors. And deeper, more restful seat cushions contribute to greater riding comfort. Other advantages of the new Oldsmobile's coachwork become increasingly important as the months and miles go by. A new type of steel bracing employed throughout the combination wood-and-steel body framework adds materially to strength and durability. New insulation makes body interiors warm in winter and cool in summer. And a new method of anchoring body to chassis gives greater strength and solidity to the car as a whole. These specific features of Fisher construction add definitely to the new Oldsmobile's desirability . . . and they contribute in no small way to the greater value which this fine car now provides.

VET LOANS TOTAL NEAR 800 MILLION

Atlanta Branch of Bureau Approves $11,038,879 Under New Plan.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—New loans made to veterans since enactment of the 50 per cent loan law totaled $782,436,116 on June 27. These were made to 2,064,600 veterans.

A tabulation issued today by the veterans' administration showed the Washington office led all others in the amount and number of loans made, paying out $152,558,078 to 417,804 veterans.

Five other offices had loaned more than $25,000,000. New York leading with $79,115,531. The others were Hines, Ill., $45,587,241; Philadelphia, $31,451,314; Detroit, $28,173,002; and Los Angeles, $27,100,089.

Eighteen other cities surpassed the $10,000,000 mark. They included Atlanta, Ga.; Charlotte, N. C.; Dallas, Texas; Nashville, Tenn.; New Orleans and San Antonio.

John M. Slaton Jr., regional director of the Veterans' bureau in Atlanta, said Tuesday loans amounting to $11,038,879 had been made to 34,718 veterans in the Atlanta office of these loans were made within the first few months but a few requests are still being made, he said.

CITY FINANCE BODY WILL STUDY SLASH OF JOBS, OFFICES

McRae previously stated they would not champion any such proposal.

Moseley's Statement.

Text of Moseley's statement regarding efforts of employees to forestall the slashes and thus save the "lucrative salaries and easy jobs they have had with the city government" follows:

"The announced intention of the City Employees' Union organization to fight the special economic committee's economy program was anticipated by the committee. To a great extent it bears out the statement of the committee that the city has been in a large measure operated for city employees rather than taxpayers."

"It is not at all surprising that those affected by this economy program should have howled. Many employees who will be cut off by the committee's recommendation will find it difficult to obtain the lucrative salaries and easy jobs they have had with the city government. The committee, with one accord, feels that it should squeeze the water out of the city job situation, and I feel that my opposition to the economy in the city government program is going to crystallize public sentiment in favor of the program."

"Atlanta is one of a great many large cities in the country that find it necessary to go to extraordinary lengths to find money with which to operate."

"I feel with other members of the special committee that in these trying times the strictest governmental economy should be practiced. We certainly need no additional taxes and there is no reason for other tax burdens if only we take the water out of the city employee situation. It is a great pity that the city in these depressing times is in position to decrease tax burdens."

"Chicago is one of the cities setting a fine example for the nation. Under its new democratic mayor, a relief committee was named and has recommended economies in the city's pay rolls amounting to $8,000,000 a year. This is abundant proof that even politicians can save money when the pressure is turned on."

No Measure Approved.

Pending the convention of the adjourned session of council this afternoon, Mayor James L. McRae Tuesday did not approve any of the various measures passed Monday. Several charter amendments are included in the list and he indicated he will sanction them as soon as they reach his desk, probably on Thursday morning. They include:

1.—Right to condemn private utility properties by the borough anywhere in Georgia for establishment of municipally owned and operated plants here. Eminent domain privileges will be accorded the borough if the measures are approved by the legislature in the most far-reaching provisions ever yet granted any municipality.

2.—Right to condemn the Stone mountain scarp on which Atlanta proposes to carve a monument to Confederate heroes.

3.—Creation of Atlanta as a separate county.

4.—Elimination of water rate restrictions.

Efforts on the part of Millican to curtail the practice of nepotism in awarding borough jobs will be renewed this afternoon, he has announced. He will propose that the finance committee be reduced from a body of 13, one from each ward, to a committee of six.

Reports of committees and other routine business are on the calendar.

JURY GIVEN CASE IN NEGRO SLAYING

COLQUITT, Ga., July 7.—The case of Joe Albritton, charged with the slaying of Lucy Scott, negro woman, during an alleged attack by four men on her son, John Scott, in May, 1930, was given to a jury here tonight. The 12 men were locked up later tonight and ordered to resume deliberations tomorrow.

Albritton, Guy Long, Jack Long and Joe Brown Kirkland were indicted for the alleged attack. The state contended the men attempted to kill John Scott and his mother was killed during the fight.

Guy Long has been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. Jack Long and Kirkland have not been tried.

New Traffic System Urged by Whitaker

A system of progressive control for traffic lights and a police traffic bureau entirely independent of the rest of the police department were recommended for Atlanta by C. C. Whitaker, traffic expert, speaking before the Atlanta Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon Tuesday.

Mr. Whitaker said that it had been conservatively estimated that traffic stops and starts under the present traffic light system are costing Atlanta motorists $25,000 per day in additional consumption of gasoline, additional wear and tear on motors and the waste of time lost to motorists waiting for lights to change.

A "ripple" system of lights could be installed on the principal streets at a cost of approximately $45,000, he said, with lights synchronized so that a motorist could drive straight through at a normal rate of speed and find the lights "green" all the way through town.

Michael To Remain At Home, Says Carol

BUCHAREST, July 7.—(AP)—Within an hour after Princess Helen's chamberlain announced today that Crown Prince Michael would spend the summer with his mother at Constanta, King Carol issued an official proclamation denying it.

The king's proclamation was taken to mean that the crown prince would not spend the summer with his mother, but with his father.

The royal disagreement was the subject of a furor of comment in Bucharest tonight, much of which was directed against the king's proclamation.

Birmingham Warden Frustrates Jail Break

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 7.—(AP)—F. L. Erwin, chief warden at the Jefferson county jail here, today revealed an unsuccessful attempt by 40 prisoners to escape from the prison.

Erwin said three sets of bars had been sawed when the attempt was discovered and that only one set remained to be cut before the prisoners would have gained their liberty.

A number of saws, knives, files, keys and an electric torch were found in a cell occupied by Arthur Burnap, awaiting trial on a charge of robbing the express messenger of a passenger train near here, Erwin said.

He said Burnap admitted directing the delivery attempt.

EMMA HILL SUES FOR BACK ALIMONY

was granted alimony of $200 a week and counsel fees of $2,000 pending divorce action on her charges that while she was sojourning at Palm Beach her wealthy and socially prominent husband was "too friendly" with a woman in New York. The "other woman" was unnamed in the 1927 action, and later the court ruled that the wife's evidence was insufficient. The divorce petition was denied.

In the fall of 1928, however, Mrs. Orvis established legal residence at Reno, and was granted a divorce from her husband. Alimony of $850 a month, granted incident to this divorce, was the basis of her latest court action against her former husband.

Miss Emma D. Hill was a member of one of the most aristocratic families in the south. She was born at Washington, in Wilkes county, and attended school at Washington Seminary here, entering into the upper currents of Atlanta society, where she rapidly became noted for her grace, beauty and charm. For generations her family had been numbered as among the most representative of the aristocracy of the old south, and the young woman was a frequent visitor in Atlanta after her seminary days. Her marriage to Orvis was a social event such as is seldom witnessed in this city, her husband journeying to Atlanta in company with a number of friends representing the elite of New York society. After her removal to that metropolis the young bride of the cotton broker promptly was welcomed to the highest realm of New York social activities, being appointed on the most important committees in various affairs of the "four hundred."

DUTCH SCHULTZ BEATS SULLIVAN LAW CHARGE

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—In a crowded and heavily guarded courtroom, Arthur Elegenheimer, alias Dutch Schultz, Bronx runner, won dismissal today of a Sullivan law charge. Martin Krompfer, charged with Schultz, also was freed. The charge was based on the finding of an automatic shotgun in the car which Schultz and Krompfer entered last Wednesday.

Woman Bares Marriage to Man Killed by Minister's Daughter

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 7.—A woman, who told police she was Mrs. Inez Hall Dudley, asked newspapermen today to include her among those surviving Preston Dudley as his widow. Dudley was shot July 2, died last night from his wound and Mary Cone, 21, his alleged sweetheart, today was charged with slaying him.

The woman said she married Dudley January 14, 1929, and had been separated about a year, but they were not divorced.

Mary Cone showed no emotion when told this morning of Dudley's death and asked officers why she had not been informed before that time.

Mrs. Dudley, questioned about her knowledge of the affair, said she had known of her husband's association with Miss Cone since the separation about a year ago. Miss Cone previously went with her (Mrs. Dudley's) brother, she said.

Tonight Mrs. Dudley told the Columbus Enquirer-Sun that on one occasion she had gone to Mary Cone and requested that she stop going with her husband. She said she had visited with the girl since the shooting.

She stated she and her husband had been separated because of his "continued drunkenness and rough treatment," but denied divorce proceedings had been contemplated. She declared she and Preston Dudley had remained on friendly terms, and that she had visited him almost daily while he was in the hospital.

Questioned as to whether she would press charges against Miss Cone, she said she had reached no decision on the course she would take, and declined to discuss the matter further.

The victim died without breaking his silence to give the police details which surrounded the shooting. told police who questioned him immediately after the shooting that he would never talk and even when told that he could not live refused to speak.

Miss Cone, a tiny slip of a girl, with a head of red curls that framed a youthful and charming face, has sat on her cot in the jail refusing to talk of the shooting to either newspapermen or the police. When questioned she said she had been told not to talk and would not do so until brought before a judge.

While Miss Cone has also refused to discuss the affair her attorneys, Hentley H. Chappell and Frank D. Foley, her father, the Rev. A. J. Cone, announced that she would plead self-defense. Her father quoted his daughter as saying, "I had to shoot to keep him from shooting me." Mr. Cone said that his daughter, who lives with a married sister, spent last Wednesday night at his home. Early in the morning she left his house in response to a telephone call from her sister who said Dudley had tried to get in the house during the night. "My daughter met Dudley," said Mr. Cone, "shortly after she arrived at her sister's home and rode around the block to talk it over." The shooting took place at the end of the ride. The girl obtained the pistol and fired. There were no eyewitnesses but two passers-by heard the shot and in response to a request from Miss Cone carried Dudley to the city hospital.

"My daughter loved Dudley," said Rev. Cone, "and he loved her."

250 Children Stricken by Fever After Being Bitten by Gnats

WAYCROSS, Ga., July 1.—(AP)—The epidemiologist of the Georgia state board of health has completed an investigation of the fever epidemic among Waycross children.

This investigation confirms the diagnosis of Dr. George E. Atwood, health commissioner, that the fever is caused by the bite of a black gnat that resembles the sand fly. The gnats bite a person who has the fever and after seven days is able to pass on the disease. After being bitten, the child develops the fever in about five days. For the first 24 hours the fever runs from 103 to 105 degrees.

This gnat is in evidence only at night. It is recommended that screens to houses be kept oiled with kerosene as the gnat easily passes through the ordinary screen.

Dr. Atwood estimates that there are between 200 and 250 cases of the fever in Waycross. It is confined to children below the ages of 16 and 17 years.

It was found during the investigation that a large number of the children had not been in swimming at all. It is recommended, however, that children not be permitted to stay in swimming for too long a period as this long stay in water can bring on throat, eye, and nose troubles.

TENTS ASKED TO HOUSE PRISON FIRE VICTIMS

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., July 1.—(AP)—Judge B. H. Dunaway, in a communication to the prison commission, Tuesday requested fifty army squad tents to be placed on the grounds of the burned tubercular hospital to house fifty-nine prisoners who were driven from the institution Monday afternoon when the building burned.

The sick prisoners were carried to the main camp last night and assigned beds. In the bunch who had to flee the flames were former Baptist preachers and a number of others, whose names are well known in Georgia.

The farm dwelling that had been condemned as a dangerous fire hazard and was unsuitable for occupancy, was destroyed when flames of undetermined origin engulfed it.

The prisoners were herded and run out into the open to prevent disaster. Aubrey Smith was trapped and had to be taken from his cell through a hole that was cut through the wall of the outside.

Judge Dunaway stated that everything possible was done to make the prisoners comfortable last night, but that it was anxious to get them segregated from the rest of the inmates at the prison. Several of the prisoners at the hospital are bedridden, although most of them were able to get themselves out of the fire.

The people of Georgia created DeKalb county and therefore have the right to say whether it shall be merged with Fulton, William D. Passage of the merger bill in the lower house also was predicted by Mr. Thomson.

The merger will be discussed by speakers in various sections of the county during the next few weeks, it was announced at the meeting. Ben T. Blackmon, secretary of the merger society, who presided Tuesday night in the absence of Dr. B. G. Carnahan, president of the group, has stated that approximately 5,000 of DeKalb's registered voters have signed a card approving the plan and asking introduction of a bill providing for a referendum on the issue.

Speakers at the meeting also included Hal Lindsay, assistant United States district attorney. The merger, if successful, will probably take effect January 1, when Campbell county becomes a part of Fulton.

The exact position of General Chen and his army toward the nationalist government and its rival, the new Canton regime, still remained obscure.

Some of the reserve officers who had had no time in the air since the last camp, held in the summer of 1930 at Maxwell field, Montgomery, were taken aloft Monday and given dual instruction as part of their "refresher" work, and other officers who had had greater opportunity to fly during the last year built up their solo time.

TWELVE KNIVES FOUND IN SING SING CELLS

OSSENING, N. Y., July 7.—(AP)—Twelve knives, ten of which were described by prison keepers as "vicious looking ones," were found within the walls of Sing Sing today as officials searched all cells for hidden weapons. The other two were table knives smuggled from the prison dining hall.

The search was conducted while the 2,440 inmates were kept locked in their cells. It was ordered by Warden Lewis E. Lawes following the third stabbing, two of them fatal, within a month.

The three stabbings, the last of which resulted in the death last night of John De Luca, 24, was attributed by prison authorities to a feud among rival gangsters serving sentences in Sing Sing.

For the period of the camp, the 356th pursuit squadron, of New Orleans, and the 357th pursuit squadron, of the Candler field, have joined forces, with Major Bennett A. Moller, of New Orleans, as commander, and Major William L. Plummer, of Atlanta, as operations officer.

A number of social events have been planned for the visiting officers during their visit to Atlanta. This is the first time reserve officers have received active training at Candler field and the first time in several years the annual camp has not been held at Maxwell field.

Vet Retains Attorney To Prove Self Alive

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—(AP)—The United States government has been insisting since 1918 that William R. Eba, of Los Angeles, was dead. Today he had retained a lawyer to prove otherwise.

In August, 1918, Eba said, the government informed his mother, Mrs. Samuel Steele, of Ashland, Ky., he had been killed in action at Chateau Thierry. Later word was sent her that he fell in the St. Mihiel drive.

A short time ago Eba applied for a war-time bonus loan. Back came a letter, he said, notifying him the veteran in question died at San Antonio, Texas, March 11, 1930.

WOODCOCK DIRECTING FIRE ON DEALER CLASS

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—A national prohibition policy of leaving each private violator of the dry laws "to his own conscience and the force of education" was enunciated tonight by Prohibition Director Woodcock.

The federal chief, speaking over the Columbia Broadcasting System, asserted he believed such "real progress" had been made by his bureau during the past year that eventually it should be possible to eliminate the practice of wiping out those who deal in quantities of illicit liquor.

The bureau ought eventually to apprehend every commercial violator, he said.

Woodcock said he could not answer satisfactorily questions as to the "extent the unlawful traffic has been stopped." The bureau has no means of estimating, he explained, the number of violators who are not caught.

For the record of his first year in office, which ended July 3, he listed a total of 75,365 cases prepared for prosecution in federal and state courts. Of these, he said, $8,173,000 worth of cases were terminated in federal courts and convictions obtained in 50,334, with 29,372 jail sentences imposed.

In addition, he said, there were fines aggregating $5,497,566, together with 6,578 permanent injunctions granted and 8,245 automobiles and 31,321 stills seized.

18-YEAR-OLD ADMITS MURDERING MERCHANT

MONROE, La., July 7.—(AP)—Dawson W. Crowson, 18-year-old farm boy, confessed to police today that he shot and killed Ira Castles, 60-year-old merchant with whom he was spending the night last night, and set fire to Castles' store after the aged man had refused to lend him $5 with which to buy his sweetheart a box of candy.

Crowson fled from the scene after the crime, but returned later to the smoking ruins of the store to give himself up.

He said that after he and Castles retired to bed they began arguing about the $5 loan and that he drew Castles' pistol from under a pillow and fired while the merchant begged for his life.

He said he then saturated the place with gasoline, ignited it and left. Crowson returned to the ruins after walking a mile down the road. Questioned in the parish jail by Sheriff Milton Coverdale, he readily related details of the crime.

MEMPHIAN CHALLENGES CLERGYMAN TO TRIAL

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 7.—(AP)—Tom Sheets, produce dealer, and a member of the congregation of the Central Baptist church, today "challenged" the Rev. Ben Cox, pastor, to stand trial at a church business meeting August 5, for alleged "un-Christian conduct."

One of four members whom church deacons asked to leave the congregation last September when the resignation of Dr. Cox was first demanded. Sheets charged a "smoke screen has been hung over the whole affair." He added that since the first time he was fired in the church, "I will be glad to face a similar trial at the same time."

Dr. Cox was given a vote of confidence by his congregation at a meeting in September when he was accused of improper conduct with a member of the church, and the deacons who preferred the charges resigned.

Suspect Arrested.

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 7.—(AP)—R. R. Lassiter, sought for a week in connection with the ice pick stabbing of Mrs. W. D. Martin, was arrested today near Chipley and is being returned here. Sheriff Moss Penton said, Mrs. Martin was stabbed after she awoke and found a man bending over her bed. The assailant fled when she screamed.

$40,000,000 BUDGET
VOTED BY BAPTISTS

Southern Convention to Raise Sum for Operation and Benevolences.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 7.—(AP)—A budget of $40,000,000, an increase of $2,500,000 over the figure for last year, was set tonight by the promotional committee of the Southern Baptist convention for operation of the churches in the convention and for the benevolence of the organization.

Dr. Fred F. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Knoxville, Tenn., was named executive secretary of the promotional committee, and will be in charge of the campaign to raise the budget.

The promotional committee, through its chairman, Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, of Greenville, S. C., also president of the Southern Baptist Convention, stated that the budget of $31,000,000 was allocated for work of local churches and $9,000,000 for the convention's benevolences.

The $2,500,000 increase in the budget was made to apply on retirement of the outstanding debts of the convention, the promotional committee setting the budget at the figure last year, money raised over that amount to be applied to the church debts, the committee stating that raising of the $40,000,000 budget would enable the placing of $2,500,000 on the debts.

TARIFF NEXT ISSUE,
ROBINSON ASSERTS

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, said today that now that "the deeper wrinkles of President Hoover's moratorium have been ironed out" the chief executive should seek a revision of the tariff.

In a statement through the democratic national committee, the Arkansas senate leader said the president's announcement of agreement upon the moratorium stressed the psychological effect of the plan "in the swinging of men's minds from fear to confidence."

An announcement from him that the worst exactions of the Grumley tariff would be corrected with his aid and countenance," Robinson said, "would give the same comfort to his own countrymen that his reparations moratorium was expected to give to the staggering nations of Europe."

CALIFORNIA FIRES DO HEAVY DAMAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—(AP)—Flames left blackened wastes in more than a dozen parts of California today as hundreds of weary fire fighters continue efforts to subdue the blazes in heat-stricken hills and plains.

Mountain towns, ranch houses, herds of cattle, stands of timber, ripened grain and valuable pasture fell before the onslaught of fire yesterday and early today.

A force of 700 men used every possible fire fighting trick in an attempt to contain a 25,000-acre blaze which swept up three sides of Mount Diablo, Contra Costa county. Early today damage was estimated by fire officials at $100,000. Several stands of timber and 500 head of cattle were destroyed.

NEW YORK COMMUNISTS HOLD DEMONSTRATION

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—Shouts and shuffles of 500 communists were heard in City Hall park this afternoon in an unemployment demonstration, but 150 policemen just let the demonstrators march and cheer until, tired and hoarse, they quit of their own accord.

The demonstrators marched as an escort for a committee which presented a letter to the board of aldermen asking continuance of relief for the destitute through police channels a fund to tide over unemployed and stoppage of all evictions of those distressed through unemployment.

'SKELETON' CABINET
MEETS WITH HOOVER

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—President Hoover met only a short time today with a much depleted cabinet.

Four of the cabinet officers, Secretaries Stimson, Mellon, Hyde and Wilbur, are not in the city.

Secretary Stimson is in Italy and Secretary Mellon is in France. Wilbur is making a tour of interior department projects in the west and Hyde is on a vacation.

The meeting, however, was augmented by the presence of Vice President Curtis.

Negro Gets Life Term.

Will Lowry, negro, Tuesday was found guilty of the murder of Hattie Andrews on May 14, in Fulton superior court. Judge Virgil H. Moore sentenced him to serve a life term when the jury recommended mercy. He killed the woman with a pistol during an argument, it was testified.

Storm Passes.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 7.—(AP)—A violent storm which raged in this vicinity yesterday, blew out to sea at midnight leaving a trail of wreckage behind. Houses were unroofed, trees uprooted and many small harbor craft driven aground. The rain continued to fall in torrents.

Convict Killed.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 7.—(AP)—John J. Johnson, 20, state convict, died in a Tallahassee hospital today shortly after being struck over the head by a falling brick on a prison camp in Wakulla county.

The prisoner was working with a road gang at the time. He was serving a three-year sentence from Pinellas county for theft of an automobile.

Told To Play Fascist Air,
Gotham Conductor Quits

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—Egon Ebert, the conductor, has resigned rather than play the fascist national anthem in the first of a series of concerts to be given in a Masonic temple here.

Newspapers quoted Paul Sydow, who accuses the concertists of being to be held, as saying Ebert "was fully aware for the last two weeks that I am bound to a certain party to have the fascist march, 'Giovinezza,' played at the opening of the concert at the Mecca auditorium, on Friday night, under his direction, and I warned him that he would compel me to discharge him in the event that he would try to hinder me from fulfilling my obligations."

"I have informed the Italian government that no further interference will occur."

Asked if the concertists are sponsored by the Italian government, Sydow would not elaborate on his statement.

2 Firemen Are Freed
For Selling Homebrew

BISHOP MANNING ORDERED TO REST

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—It was announced at the cathedral of St. John the Divine Monday that Bishop William T. Manning has been ordered by his physicians not to attend the meeting of the general convention of the Episcopal church at Denver in September, and to spend the summer quietly.

June 12 Bishop Manning celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday and the beginning of his eleventh year as head of the diocese of New York. He has not been well for months.

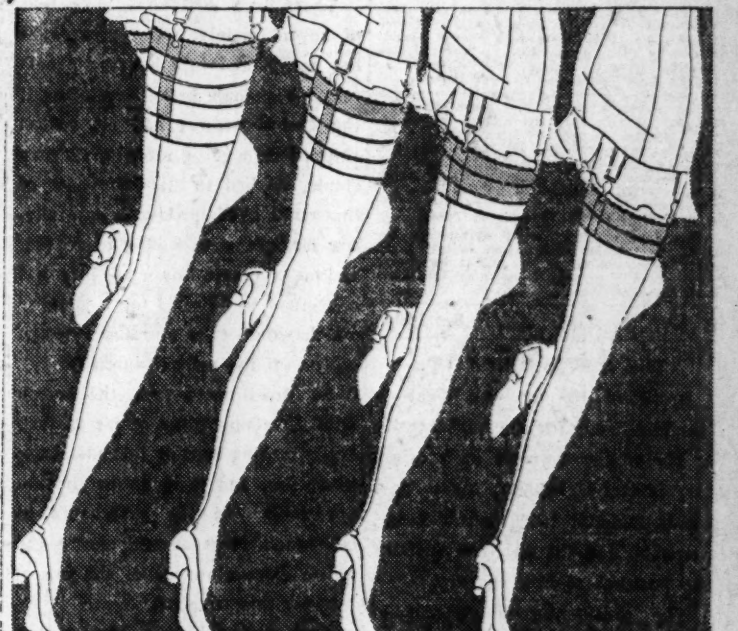

He will spend the summer at his home on Mount Desert Island, Maine, and will return to his diocese in October.

Heirs of Squatter
Lose in Decision
In 'Gold Coast' Tilt

CHICAGO, July 7.—(AP)—The shade of the late Captain George Wellington Streeter, who defied his claims to the lake shore of the near North Side "Gold Coast" with a shotgun, diminished a bit today as another court decision was handed down against his descendants.

Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley sustained the demurrer of counsel for the Chicago Title & Trust Company, which guaranteed titles to $500,000,000 in lake front property, to the election of alleged heirs of the old captain that the land belongs to them by squatter's rights.

Counsel for the defendants, who include the Potter Palamers, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick and other prominent "first families," contended the declaration was a midwinter of action since it covered more than one complaint. It asked rejection of the present property owners in "Streeterville," as well as trespass damages and an assumption of profits.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY
A Citizen Wherever We Serve

SENATE APPROVES JAN. 1 INAUGURAL

Change in Date To Be Effective After
Adoption by Voters.

Inauguration of the governor of Georgia in January instead of June and the holding of a 10-day session of the general assembly at the first of the year and a 60-day session during the summer Tuesday received approval of the senate in adoption of a resolution offered by President W. Cecil Neill.

The term of Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., who took office June 27, would be cut six months by the Neill resolution, which provides that terms of the present incumbents of the offices of governor and those which are for the same as the governor shall expire at the first biennial session to be held in January, 1933, and biennially thereafter.

The resolution would become effective on ratification by the people in a referendum.

Bar Requirements.
Immediately after adopting the Neill resolution the senate passed a bill authorizing justices of the state supreme court to fix requirements and qualifications for bar admissions. The bar admission bill was given two amendments by the senate. One, by Senator Wade H. Watson, of the third, would allow graduates of a four-year high school or preparatory school, persons having a general education equivalent to a high school education, and persons who have studied two years at a law school or three years in a law office to take the bar examination. Another, by Senator Guy D. Jackson, of the fourth, prevents the bill from applying to law students who have already completed their first year in law school. The bill, as amended, passed by a vote of 34 to 3.

The Neill resolution passed by a vote of 44 to 2, following a thorough explanation of the measure by President Neill. Senator Buell Stark, of the 43d, declared that the measure will avoid extra sessions except in the second year. The Neill resolution has been endorsed editorially by The Constitution on several occasions. The referendum on the proposal would be held at the general election in November, 1932.

United States Senator William J. Harris addressed the senate Tuesday afternoon. Senator Harris was introduced by President Neill, and in a brief talk, recalled his service in the Georgia legislature as among the most pleasant years of his career, and declared that he has "never seen in Georgia the same spirit shown by the legislature toward the accomplishment of great things."

Fuel Tax Bill.
The finance committee of the senate Tuesday afternoon approved the bill offered by Senator J. F. Pruett, of the 32d, authorizing payment of the occupational fuel tax to the counties monthly instead of quarterly. General judiciary committee No. 2 approved a bill by Senator B. T. Brock, of the 4th, fixing the venue of suits against the state highway board.

Bills introduced Tuesday in the senate include a proposed law offered by Senator John Wesley Weekes, of the 5th, to require the issuance of licenses to operators of automobiles, a measure submitted by Senator D. F. Martin, of the 2d, to authorize the state game and fish commission to develop natural oyster beds of the state, and a bill by Senator I. H. P.

Lad of 14 Proves Hero Second Time in Year

COOLEEMEE, N. C., July 7.—(P)—Everett Walker, 14-year-old Boy Scout of Mocksville, N. C., today was credited with saving his second life.

Last October he plunged into the blazing Mocksville hotel and dragged his younger brother to safety. Yesterday after three men had failed to bring the unconscious body of Boone Stonestreet from the 14-foot bottom of Dutchman's creek, Walker dived in and rescued Stonestreet.

The youth was awarded the Carnegie medal for his heroism during the Mocksville hotel fire.

RE-DISTRICTING PLANS EXPLAINED BY AUTHORS

No congressional representatives appeared Tuesday night at the hearings of the subcommittee of the senate and house committees on reapportionment, but authors of two redistricting bills were present and explained their measures.

Representative Walker, of Ben Hill, author of one of the first reapportionment measures to be introduced in the house during the present session, said that he desired to keep south Georgia's national representation on its present basis and not take a congressman from that section.

Georgia is to lose two congressmen on the basis of the 1930 federal census.

Representative Nelson, of Laurens, author of reapportionment measure introduced in the house Tuesday, explained that his bill was based upon geographical location of the counties and their communities of interests as well as regard to population.

Representative "Pat" Gillen, of Bibb county, speaker pro tem of the house, presented a map to the committee which he said he hoped would be the basis for a bill which would be referred to the general committee as the committee substitute.

The committee adjourned to meet again today to begin actual work on drafting a measure that would meet many of the ideas advanced and ready to present to the general committee by the end of the week.

The house appropriations committee meets again today to continue hearings with the remaining educational institutions and charitable and corrective institutions to be heard.

Student Executed.

CALCUTTA, India, July 7.—(P)—Dinesh Gupta, a student at Patna University, was executed today for the murder of Colonel N. S. Simpson, special general of prisons, last December. In protest, a general strike has been declared, many Indian shops are closed and protest meetings are scheduled for tonight.

Beck, of the 37th, providing for the state to assume highway indebtedness of the counties and the central highway district.

A resolution offered by Senator C. M. McKenzie, of the 48th, would have the senators agreed to return to the state treasury 10 per cent of their compensation as senators. Senator McKenzie explained that he believes that if the legislature is to make the state government economical, "the economy should start with us."

The weekes drivers' license bill provides for temporary suspension of license in the event of conviction for drunk driving, speeding or other motor misdemeanors. A longer suspension would be given on a second conviction and on a third conviction the license would be revoked for a period of five years. The bill follows the New York statute on the subject, and, if enacted, will greatly reduce reckless driving, Weekes said. It punishes as a misdemeanor any person driving without a license, whether he has failed to obtain one or has left it at home.

Important legislation scheduled for action before the house ways and means committee, including Western and Atlantic rental discounting bill, went over until future meetings of the body.

Battle-Allen W. & A. rental discount proposal, enacted at the extra session of the legislature early in the year but vetoed by Governor Hardman, will be heard Thursday week under a request of Representative J. H. Baldwin, one of the co-authors.

A hearing on the proposal of Representative Dorsett, of Carroll, for outright sale of the state-owned railroad is scheduled for Thursday.

Because of the absence of Representative Stewart, of Cook, author of a bill placing a gross tax on utility revenue, a hearing on the bill on the program Tuesday was put over until Tuesday of next week.

An amendment to the general sales tax bill, which would have included shotguns and shotgun shells, proposed by Representative Mixon, of Irwin, and Speaker Tucker, of Warren, was acted upon unfavorably by the committee and will be reported to the house disappointed.

Big Vote a Surprise.
While the house debated its "lawyers' bill" at length, there was surprise at the overwhelmingly majority vote for it in view of the senate's failure to bring an almost identical measure to a vote.

Opposition to the bill in the house centered around Representative Stewart, of Coffee, who characterized it as legislation sponsored by "the lawyers' trust" and "the most vicious legislation I have ever seen in the house."

The debate on the bill was the first sustained controversy on the floor and its passage was the first piece of major general legislation to get final house approval at this session. It provides that only licensed attorneys should be permitted to practice law and also prohibits the solicitation of legal employment by members of the bar.

Implied charges of lobbying against the bill "ever since its inception" were made by Representative Lanier, of Richmond, who supported it. After adopting three amendments, the senate adjourned in the middle of debate on a similar bill.

AUDITORS WARN CITY ON DEFICIT

Atlanta's Present Financial Situation Is Termed "Most Precarious."

Terming the steadily mounting deficit of the borough government "a most precarious situation in the city's finances," Ham Eddison & Company, certified public accountants, filed Tuesday with Mayor James L. Key an audit of the borough's books for the year ending December 31, 1930, again recommending adoption of centralized bookkeeping system and a properly controlled budgetary system.

The actual deficit for the year is listed at $445,678.26, which is given as "a very conservative estimate," as it does not include $66,338.49, characterized as uncollectable accounts, but which are still carried as assets. Auditors recommend that these items be collected or charged off so that the true status of the borough may be determined.

The following table of the cash deficit is given to show how the fiscal status of the borough is growing annually more acute:

Cash deficit at end of 1930, $881,073.67; 1929, $830,876.59; 1928, $458,134.59; 1927, $353,471.

Consolidated balance sheets show liabilities of the borough to be $19,097,714.62 as against $66,205,972.17 assets. Receipts for 1930 totaled $14,426,744.55 while $14,591,192.35 was expended. Bonded indebtedness totaled $14,594,925.07.

MEASURE TO OUST FULTON'S BOARD OBJECT OF ATTACK

that responsibility exclusively to them.

Judge Park's reference to the Fulton "situation" was "more pointed, although he, too, was addressing himself to the importance of curbing the consideration of local and special bills by the assembly."

Puts Premium on Time.
"The trouble with local legislation," he said, "is not only that it takes up the time of the whole membership, which might be given to more important matters, but it places a heavy premium upon the time of the individual member. Take the case of the Fulton delegation now. Individually about $100,000, collectively, it has anything but a purely local quarrel."

"What could be more ridiculous," Judge Park continued, "than for 358 members of the assembly to be spending their time debating whether my county, or your county, has one or two tax collectors."

Argument over the bill also disclosed a division in the DeKalb delegation. Representative Lindsay opposing the measure and Representative Brannan advocating it.

Lindsay said "The devil of it is that if the legislature submits it to the people, the people will approve it."

He was asked by Allen if he wasn't willing to submit anything to the people.

"As a general proposition, yes," he replied, "but in this particular instance I think it would be dangerous. Not one man in fifty knows anything about a constitutional amendment when he comes to the polls to vote."

Lanier, of Richmond, who also appeared apprehensive should members of the assembly be shown the time to pass local bills, thought that single members, or county delegations, ought to have the right to correct "bad political situations" which exist and the people have failed to do so.

"If the people want to sit on their hands," Brannan replied, "and let corrupt political rings exist, they should not expect the general assembly to furnish the remedy. They have it."

Legislation Delayed.
Important legislation scheduled for action before the house ways and means committee, including Western and Atlantic rental discounting bill, went over until future meetings of the body.

Battle-Allen W. & A. rental discount proposal, enacted at the extra session of the legislature early in the year but vetoed by Governor Hardman, will be heard Thursday week under a request of Representative J. H. Baldwin, one of the co-authors.

In Georgia's Legislative Halls

These lawyers get so interested in their subjects that unconsciously they reveal their profession in speaking out of court. Senators Roy Harris, of the 18th, and W. H. Duckworth, of the 7th, demonstrated this fact Tuesday when, in argument on the corporation law practice bill, they repeatedly called the fellow senators "gentlemen of the jury."

Privileges of the senate floor were extended Tuesday to William Butt, of Fannin county, and ex-Congressman William Schley Howard. The house extended privileges to T. R. Locke, mayor of Carrollton; R. E. Camp, judge of the superior court at Dublin, and R. C. Coleman, president of the Georgia Pharmaceutical Association and ex-legislator.

"The Legislative Journal," a newspaper devoted exclusively to the general assembly and published by Representative J. E. Mundy, of Clayton, has made its appearance. It is full of news items of interest to the legislators. The second issue is awaited eagerly.

Senator Louie E. Jones, of the 51st, is an Alpharetta undertaker who bids fair to be one of the most popular members of the upper house. He attended the entire extra session early this year to study parliamentary procedure, and is taking a sincere and deep interest in the state's problems. Senator Jones heartily favors the Fulton-Milton county merger, which was approved Tuesday by a house committee. He is a member of some of the most important of the senate committees.

The prison farm purchase committee, created by the extra session of the legislature, will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon to consider further drawing attention to the difference between a lawyer's "opinion" and life insurance, the title company is "an enemy of the state," the session," Senator Hamilton McWhorter, of the fifth, declared that "the bill cures any unethical practices."

Senator Roy Harris, of the eighth, said that the bill, as amended, "is a weak bill and amounts to almost nothing." One thing left in the bill, however, he said, is that no person, except a law association, can hold out to the public as lawyers and charge fees for services. Harris declared that the city lawyers need protection, or shysters will be produced.

"Unless something is done, there will be a big stench in Georgia," he said. "It is a trust racket. Georgia now that almost compares with Capone's in Chicago, and yet they are within the law. The trust companies themselves should bring about needed reforms as was done in New York. Senator Hand declared that there are 900 lawyers in Atlanta, and that means one lawyer for every 350 people."

House Bills.
H. R. 223, by Hampton of Fannin, to authorize and empower the sheriff, ordinary and clerk of superior court of certain counties, to collect and receive for the county, such sums as may be due to the county as official organ of said county. General judiciary.

H. R. 228, by Leathers of DeKalb, to reorganize the office of commissioners of roads and bridges of Walker county. County and county matters.

H. R. 229, by Leathers of DeKalb, to require licensing for the operation, maintenance, opening or establishment of stores in this state, to fix license fees and provide for collection by comptroller general. Ways and means.

H. R. 230, by Leathers of DeKalb and Still of Fulton, to prescribe the minimum number of employees for the operation of steam, labor and labor statistics.

H. R. 231, by Huddleston of Meriwether and Johnson of Spalding, to prohibit auditing of all state expense accounts before the same are paid; to require approval of state auditor before payment of any expense account of official or state employee. State of public.

H. R. 232, by Pope of Toombs, to create and establish the city court of Toombs county and provide for judge and solicitor. General judiciary.

The liquid SUNSHINE
foe of INDIGESTION

MANY years ago when Dialol was offered to the medical world, it was referred to as "Too good to be true." Yet, physicians realized from the formula that there was a liquid of uncommon remedial value.

The question was: Will Dialol prove in practice to be as powerful as in theory?

Since that time vast numbers of druggists have filled physicians' prescriptions specifying Dialol for their patients!

Mealtime to these sufferers is no longer a time to be dreaded. No need now for them to avoid so many foods they liked, but which created discomfort. A doctor's prescription enabled them to give Nature just the digestive help she required.

No more bloating.
No more gathering of gas.
No more "heart burn."
No more sharp chest pains.
No more deadly heart pressure.

Dialol proved itself truly a conquering "Foe of Indigestion" because the one tablespoonful after each meal IMMEDIATELY went to work.
As a liquid it instantly began to neutralize undue acid condition, to prevent fermentation and to give to the digestive juices the added chemical power to complete their work.

But now YOU can enjoy the relief that springs from Dialol. Go to any leading druggist—without a prescription—obtain the "Sunshine Package" of such generous size.

GRAND HOTEL

BY VICKI BAUM.

INSTALLMENT XLVIII

It was not to be expected, however, that Flammchen would immediately fall in love with Kringlein. No, she is very far from producing such delightful surprises. But in this hotel room No. 70 a sense of intimacy and security came over her and it seemed to her more reliable than the usual day-to-day experiences of her existence. Kringlein talked on and on. He opened his heart and told her the whole story of his life, and it seemed to him at this moment that all his life had been directing itself to one aim and one completion—this woman that had befriended him, this perfection of beauty that lay in his bed, the girl who had come to him, who had left Preysing and come to him.

"I am not going in there again," Flammchen whispered. "They will arrest me by now. They'll arrest me too. I am going to stay here in hiding."

Kringlein smiled nervously. "Why should they arrest you?" he asked, but all the same he was afraid. "As a witness," she said.

And suddenly he was once more keyed up to the whirling danger pitch of the day before. "You needn't be afraid. I'll arrange it all for you," he said quickly. "I have money. I have money enough. It will last us a long while. And I can easily win some more, gambling. We'll travel. We'll go to Paris. Where you like."

"My pass has a visa for England—"

"Good. England then. Where you like and what you like. I'll give you the money I won—3,400 marks. You can have more later on. Don't say anything, keep quiet and stay here. I'll go along now to the other room. I'll go along to Preysing. I'll see what's happened to him. I'll go now and bring your things. Trust to me, and don't be afraid."

Kringlein vanished into the bathroom and dressed with the utmost speed. Flammchen heard the outer door shut.

Gaigern lay on the carpet in No. 71. He was dead. Nothing more could happen to him. No one now could harass or pursue him. He would never now find himself in prison. And that was good. He would never now keep his appointment in Vienna with Gruninskaya. And that was sad. But he had lived his life to the full in all his outlawed beauty and strength. He had spent his childhood among the fields, his boyhood on horseback. He had been a soldier in the war. He had been a fighter, hunter, gambler. He had been a lover and he had been loved. Now he was dead. His hair was moist and matted. There was an inkblot on his dark blue pajamas and an astonished smile on his lips. There were the thick woolen socks of a burglar drawn over his feet, and on his cold right hand the cut from his last adventure would never heal again.

"It's all up with me," thought Preysing. "Done. Finished. I can't go to Manchester. The Chemnitz business will fall through. The police will arrest me. I shall be questioned and put on trial. It was self-defense. Nothing can happen to me. But there's the girl. The girl, too, will be questioned."

Preysing sat in the farthest corner of the room. He had turned on all the lights and in spite of this he did not dare turn round and look behind him. By some mysterious compulsion he was forced to keep his eyes fixed on the dead man.

Nothing must be touched till the police arrive. Tomorrow it will be the papers. Mülle will know all about it. The children, too. Yes, the children, too. My God, what will happen to me? Where will I end? Mülle will divorce me. An American jazz song, "Hello, My Baby," came up from far, far below.

"I shall lose my children and I shall lose my wife. The old man will turn me out of the business for certain. And all because of that girl. It was self-defense, anyway. He was going to shoot."

Preysing bent forward, and for the thousandth time he stared at the hands of the dead Gaigern. They were empty—the right convulsively clenched, the left bent limply at the wrist; in neither was there a weapon. Preysing went down on his knees and in the full light looked all over the floor. Nothing. The revolver the man had threatened him with was nowhere to be seen—or else had never existed.

Stalin Makes Bid for Help Of 'Declassed' Intelligentsia

Move Begun To Win Over Business and Industrial Technicians as Part of Soviet Program.

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON.

MOSCOW, July 7.—(AP)—Through Joseph Stalin, soviet Russia has set out to win over the remaining members of the old intelligentsia, at least that part of the former upper classes composed of specialists or technicians in business and industry.

For the first time since the revolution, these representatives of a class which furnished many antipathetic elements to the government not only have been given a definite status in the soviet state but have been invited by Stalin to take a larger part in soviet development.

Subversive groups among the intelligentsia have been virtually destroyed, and Stalin foresaw a pronounced trend among those remaining to become more sympathetic and to co-operate more fully with the state.

He accordingly has decreed reversal of the iron-fisted policy which liquidated the opposing intelligentsia in favor of a course designed to show more consideration to those still remaining neutral and those wavering between hostility and sympathy. The new policy encourages such wavering to participate to a larger extent in soviet development.

The number of this class now in Russia is indeterminate but is believed to be considerable.

Many of the intelligentsia, joining the revolution at the outset, became genuine proletarians; those who actively opposed it were exiled or otherwise "punished."

Many held to neutrality, neither actively sympathizing with nor opposing the new regime. They were engineers, teachers and clerks. They continued to work at first under difficulties because they were labeled "declassés," the soviet sign that they occupied no place in the state, and thus were deprived of many privileges and other facilities.

Their very neutrality subjected them to suspicion because the soviet rule is that Russians not with the government are against it.

In time the discriminations against them were diminished and they were allowed more privileges, paid higher salaries and given more important posts. As if in anticipation of Stalin's pronouncement, the government early this year appointed a commission to survey the condition of the intelligentsia. But those failing to become active supporters of the new regime still were permitted to work more or less on sufferance.

Under the new policy, neutrals are not only encouraged to assume places in the socialistic scheme and to develop themselves alongside the masses, but the government is making an effort to attract those who might still be wavering between sympathy and hostility.

The effect of the policy is not apparent yet but the first definite result is expected to be improvement in living conditions generally with a loosening of restrictions and a heightened moral effect on the class as a whole.

"It will be foolish and unwise to look upon every technician and engineer of the old school as an unrepentant criminal and wrecked," said Stalin. "We want for our industry skilled persons, engineers, etc. But not every kind of them. We want only those who are able to understand the policy of the worker class and who would be able to execute that policy properly."

MISS GRACE PLOTT LAID TO LAST REST

Funeral services were held at Dellwood, N. C., Monday for Miss Grace Plott, well-known graduate nurse, who died June 27 of injuries received when she was struck down by a hit-and-run driver. She was 31 as she was crossing the street in front of the Piedmont hospital. The Rev. R. A. Sentelle officiated and interment was in the family cemetery.

Miss Plott, a native of Dellwood, entered the Piedmont hospital for training in 1918 and was graduated three years later. She was a prominent figure in her profession, having formerly been floor superintendent at the hospital though for the past few months she had been engaged in private duty. No trace of the car that struck her has been found by police.

WORLD'S FAIR PLANS ARE MAKING PROGRESS

M. D. Gleason, world's fair commissioner, Tuesday said that organization of committees for the 1937 world's fair is under way. A fair information bureau has opened offices at 720-21 Healey building and is conducting a membership drive.

An official announcement book giving the purpose and outline of the world's fair plan will be published soon. Among the organizations which will support the centennial exposition, Mr. Gleason said, are the Federal Employees Union No. 122; the Atlanta Film Board of Trade; the Georgia Dairymen's Association; the Macabees; Colonel Walter B. Andrews, past grand exalted ruler, B. P. O. Elks, in a letter said he felt certain the 1937 Elks' convention would be glad to come to Atlanta.

ALLEGED PERJURERS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—Miss Helen L. Schneider and Henry O. Hart pleaded not guilty when arraigned today on charges of "aiding in the commission of perjury" at the recent conspiracy-embellishment trial of officials of the F. H. Smith Company, an investment firm.

Miss Schneider was private secretary to G. Bryan Pitts, former president of the company. Hart was an accountant for the firm. Both were indicted yesterday.

... 3 MINUTE relief from PERIODICAL PAINS. Months after month some women still suffer needless pain, but those who know simply go to a drug store or soda fountain, get a package of some of "R-C" and get perfect relief in 3 minutes, continuing their duties in pain-free, easy comfort. "R-C" is the formula of two North Carolina druggists, contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of headache, neuralgia and periodical pains, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 1 to 3 hours. "R-C" stops the pain, quiets the nerves, is perfectly harmless. No other preparation like it. Nothing else gives such profound relief. Ask your druggist, he knows.

WOMEN'S CLUB HEAD GIVES BUSINESS AIDS

RICHMOND, Va., July 7.—(AP)—

Asserting that "the seriousness of the present economic crisis demands constructive thought and action," Miss Marion H. McClench, of Ann Arbor, Mich., in her presidential address to night proposed a 10-year constructive plan for the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"Just as science has pointed out the futility of accepting the surface and apparent causes of a difficulty, and research has indicated the method of effecting a permanent cure," she said, "so business must adopt both the scientific attitude and the research method if it wishes to find a permanent solution for the evils that persistently beset us."

Miss McClench's report was made tonight at the first general business session of the Old Dominion convention which opened its six-day session here Sunday. Governor John Garland Pollard was present and officially welcomed the more than 2,000 delegates assembled from all parts of the United States.

The night sessions followed a day started by a breakfast for judges at which Judge Camilla Kelley, of the juvenile court of Memphis, Tenn., delivered "patent medicine methods" in handling crime in this country and censured women for "neglecting to take hold of the governmental voting world with stronger hands."

"God holds women to a higher degree of moral responsibility than men because they are the mothers of the race," Judge Kelley said.

Miss McClench, in her address to-night, after saying that constructive thought and action is demanded at the present time, added that a federation, with 10 years' experience back of it, is prepared to make a real contribution along this line. Social well-being depends largely on economic well-being. It is therefore most important that women, and particularly business and professional women, should become versed in economic affairs.

Her proposed 10-year plan for the federation included: Launching a comprehensive program of education as the principle underlying economic conditions; establishment of opportunity for the development of individual capacities with a fair reward for ability shown, whether by men or women; stressing application of scientific methods to human welfare and the use of the vote to promote progress toward social and economic betterment.

Clarence Darrow Fails to Present Ku Klux Klan Plea

INDIANAPOLIS, July 7.—(AP)—A crowd that gathered in the Indiana supreme court today expecting to hear Clarence Darrow, Chicago criminal lawyer, present a plea in behalf of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan grand dragon, was disappointed when it was agreed to dispense with oral arguments.

Stephenson, convicted of murdering Miss Maudie Oberholzer, of Indianapolis, and sentenced to prison for life, is seeking release through habeas corpus action. This action was filed in the Laporte superior court, but before the court could act the supreme court granted a temporary writ of prohibition. The question before the court today was whether the temporary writ should be made permanent.

Darrow recently entered the case and it had been announced he would argue orally before the high court in support of Stephenson's contention that habeas corpus action can only be suspended in case of invasion or rebellion.

The attorneys agreed to submit briefs instead.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 7.—(AP)—Sam Latham, former Mississippi attorney, one of four attorneys facing disbarment proceedings before the Mississippi supreme court for alleged participation in an effort to prevent a $10,000,000 anti-trust suit against Warren Brothers, paving corporation of Boston, was questioned by officials of the Mississippi Bar Association here today.

The questioning occurred in the same Memphis hotel where it has been charged that eight $10,000 bills exchanged hands several months ago in furtherance of the effort to prevent filing of the suit.

PINCHOT SEEKS HELP OF RED CROSS IN STATE

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 7.—(AP)—Governor Pinchot today asked the American Red Cross to provide food for the under-fed children of unemployed miners in the bituminous coal region of Pennsylvania. "There exists in Pennsylvania, and, I have no doubt, in other states as well, a situation so serious that I desire to call it to your personal attention with the direct hope and purpose of securing assistance of the Red Cross immediately," Pinchot said in a letter to John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross.

POLICE SEEKING TRIO IN HOTEL ROBBERY

Clerk, Son of Prominent Atlanta Family, Held Up by Bandits.

Police Tuesday night still were without a clue to the identity of a trio of apparently amateur bandits who yesterday morning held up the clerk of the Cox-Carlton hotel at 683 Peachtree street, N. E., and escaped in an automobile with approximately $100 from the cash register.

Robert Wood, night clerk at the hotel and son of a prominent Atlanta family, told officers that one man entered the hotel shortly before 3 o'clock Tuesday morning and received change for a quarter after saying he wished to telephone. This man was suddenly joined by two other men, he said,

"Passive Resistance" Wins Pole Argument

WOODBURY, N. J., July 7.—(AP)—Salvatore Puturi and his wife, Rosia, who objected to the erection of a wooden electric pole rather than a painted iron pole in front of their home, won out today by taking turns sitting in the hole made for the pole until the type of shaft that suited them was produced by the public service electric company.

who produced pistols and forced him and Milton Banks, a bellboy, to lie upon the floor while the trio rifled the cash box.

Apparently extremely nervous, the bandits were startled by the stroke of a clock gong in the lobby, Wood said, and broke and ran to their automobile parked near the entrance of the hotel. Wood is a son of the late Robert R. Wood, executive at Muse Clothing Company, and is a cousin of Charles Cox, adjutant general of the Georgia national guard and part owner of the Cox-Carlton hotel.

HIGH-TENSION TOWERS WRECKED BY VANDALS

Power Company Reward Is Raised to $1,000 as Towns Go Without Light.

What is termed by the Georgia Power Company as the most serious act of vandalism experienced during recent months caused numerous north Georgia towns and cities to be without electric lights or other power service Monday night and Tuesday morning, according to reports from towns served by the company.

One high-tension power line tower was dynamited and another supporting tower was overturned, throwing Rome, Cartersville, Marietta, Acworth, Douglasville, Tate and Canton into darkness for periods ranging from five minutes to four hours. As a result the company's standing offer of a $500 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of those responsible was doubled Tuesday to $1,000.

A steel tower on the 110,000-volt double circuit between Atlanta and the Lindale substation at Rome was completely overturned when unidentified persons unscrewed foundation bolts and pulled the tower off its base. A 35,000-volt line in the same area was broken when a pole carrying the wires was dynamited. Cartersville was plunged in darkness at 9:20 p. m. Monday and remained without electric service for four hours. Marietta was without lights for 38 minutes; Acworth for an hour and 24 minutes; and Douglasville, Tate and Canton for brief periods.

MISUSE OF WATER CHARGED BY CITY

The city of Atlanta Tuesday answered the injunction suit, filed in federal court recently in the water controversy between Oglethorpe University and the United States Veterans' Bureau hospital here. The city was named in the injunction suit as a co-defendant.

In its answer the city cited a contract between the city and the hospital with emphasis on the section that states that the use of water is limited to the government, its officers and employees of the hospital, at or within the doors of the institution. One of the allegations in the original complaint was that the use of water to sprinkle the hospital lawns so lowered the pressure in the water mains that the university and adjoining residents were deprived of the water supply for which they pay.

SWIMMING POOL FALL PROVES FATAL TO BOY

Michael Mackool Succumbs to Injuries in Accident at Grant Park.

Michael Mackool, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mackool, of 207 East Fair street, died early Tuesday at Grady hospital as the result of a fall into the shallow water of Grant park swimming pool Monday night. Young Mackool's skull was fractured and his neck broken. This was the second fatality during the current swimming season.

The youth had gone to the park pool early Monday night and had been there only a few minutes when the accident occurred. An expert swimmer and diver, Mackool was preparing for a shallow dive from the large sliding board when his foot slipped and he plunged sideways and head-first into the shallow water, striking the concrete bottom. Life guards took him from the pool and sent him to Grady hospital.

Early Tuesday it was decided to operate. Just before he was taken to the surgical room young Mackool regained consciousness. He whispered to his mother to kiss him. A few minutes later he again lapsed into insensibility and died.

In addition to his parents he is survived by two brothers, Deeb and Siba Mackool, and two sisters, Misses Geneva and Mary Mackool. Services will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning at the Immaculate Conception church and interment will be in West View cemetery.

NAVAL RESERVE UNIT WILL EMBARK JULY 10

"Anchor's Aweigh."

Atlanta's battalion of the United States naval reserve will leave the city Friday night, July 10, for Savannah, from where it will embark Saturday on the U. S. S. Taylor, destroyer of the scouting fleet, for the annual two weeks' training cruise. Approximately 116 reserves under the direction of 11 officers will make the cruise.

Commander R. R. M. Emmet, U. S. navy, is "skipper" of the Taylor, on which the Atlanta battalion will cruise to Florida waters. The Taylor will rendezvous with the U. S. S. Claxton, another destroyer, at Key West, and the two ships will proceed to sea for short-range battle practice. The Claxton will be carrying reserves from New Orleans.

For the first time since Georgia has had a reserve battalion, the outfit will embark at a Georgia port. Through special requests from Savannah, arrangements were made through the navy department to have the Atlanta reserves proceed to that city and board the Taylor. Disembarkation on July 25 will be at Charleston, S. C., as heretofore. Lieutenant Harry E. Dobbs is in command of the battalion with the first and second divisions under Lieutenant W. C. Wroesand and Lieutenant M. R. Sanders, respectively.

he lost control of his automobile and crashed into another on Forrest road near the Southern railway tracks, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Spring Hill chapel. Interment will be in West View cemetery with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge.

ALLEY TRIAL DELAYED, GIRL'S LIBERTY SOUGHT

Following the indefinite postponement of the Clyde Alley murder trial in Fulton superior court Tuesday on request of the prosecution, F. Joe Turner, attorney for the defense, filed a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Miss Ruth Johnson, who, according to the petition, is being held illegally by the state as a material witness. Judge E. D. Thomas set the hearing for the habeas corpus for 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, July 13.

The case of Alley, charged with the murder of J. C. Bruce, auditor, was checked off the court calendar until further notice, when the state indicated that four of its witnesses were missing and that detectives were working on additional evidence. Ed A. Stephens, assistant solicitor, is prosecuting the case. The writ filed in behalf of the state witness by Turner asserts that Miss Johnson has been held more than three weeks illegally as a material witness, and that she testified at a hearing held when Alley sought bond to the effect that she knew nothing of the case.

ENVOY FROM MEXICO IS RELEASED ON WRIT

CHICAGO, July 7.—(AP)—Adolfo Dominguez, acting Mexican consul here, was released from the county jail late today on a writ of habeas corpus after he had served two hours of a six months' sentence for contempt of court, imposed by Municipal Judge Thomas Green.

He was released on his own recognizance on a writ issued by Judge Joseph Burke in superior court.

Attaches of his office had appealed to the Mexican embassy in Washington and had received word that the matter had been presented to the state department with a plea for the acting consul's release. Government officials here professed to have heard nothing officially of the matter.

Dominguez was sentenced for contempt after Judge Green said, he refused to sit down and remain silent while the judge was hearing a case.

Previously five Mexican idlers had been arraigned, three for carrying pistols. Another had told Judge Green he had no money and had to sleep in alleys.

CREDITORS CONFER ON LEA PROPOSAL

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 7.—(AP)—Representatives of the city of Asheville and the state banking department, North Carolina creditors of Colonel Luke Lea, of Nashville, Tenn., conferred here today on offers they said he had made for settlement of the civil obligations.

Spokesmen said no agreement was reached and the conference would be continued tomorrow. The nature of the offers made by Colonel Lea was not disclosed.

The banking department entered the negotiations as receiver for the closed Central Bank & Trust Company, to which it claims Colonel Lea was indebted in the sum of approximately $1,300,000. The city of Asheville holds $443,000 in paper tendered the bank by the Tennesseean as security for loans.

I. M. Bailey, Raleigh attorney, who represented the banking department, said at the close of today's conference that "nothing will be done to embarrass the state in its criminal prosecution of Colonel Lea."

9-Year-Old Boy Saves 3-Year Old Cousin

NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—(AP)—Three-year-old Mary Smith was saved from drowning late today by her cousin, John Smith, 9, who dove into a drainage canal, into which the little girl had fallen, and towed her ashore.

A 15-foot current pulled at the children as the little boy swam toward the shore with his baby cousin in tow.

Mary and John were playing on the bank of the canal when she lost her balance and fell into the water. The boy immediately dove into the canal to her rescue. A passerby helped the children up the steep bank when they reached the shore.

Neither of the cousins suffered any ill effects from their adventure.

ATHENS ELKS' LEADER HURT IN ROAD MISHAP

John W. Welch, Seriously Injured, Brought to Hospital Here.

His skull fractured when his car apparently ran off the highway near Lawrenceville late Monday night, John W. Welch, 50, secretary of the Athens Elks Club and widely known in north Georgia, Tuesday was reported in a serious condition at Georgia Baptist hospital, where he was brought by passing motorists.

Physicians reported Mr. Welch has been in a semi-conscious condition since being brought to the infirmary and could give no coherent account of what had happened. It was said, however, that the motorists, who brought the injured man to Atlanta said the position of Mr. Welch's car indicated it had skidded from the road, throwing the Athens man about 50 feet from the wreckage.

Dirigible Equipped With Open Gas Stove

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(AP)—An open-flame gas stove is to ride in a navy dirigible for the first time since that branch of the defensive forces started building lighter-than-air ships.

The electric stove used on previous dirigibles will be supplanted in the Akron, now under construction, by gas cooking apparatus.

This change was made possible because of the development of a gas stove weighing only 110 pounds but big enough to do the cooking for 20 officers and 96 men.

Want to be in the swim? ... switch to Camels

GIVE Camels the hardest test you can think of—take them along on your vacation—into the desert, on the boat, in the woods, to the beach.

Then you'll see why the switch to Camels in the new Humidor Pack is nation-wide.

This scientific wrapping of germ-safe moisture-proof Cellophane seals in all the natural factory-fresh aroma—seals it in so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

It insures every Camel smoker at work or at play the joy of expertly blended fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos kept always in prime smoking condition, throat-friendly, mellow and cool.

A special vacuum-cleaning process frees Camel cigarettes from the sting of peppery dust; the Humidor Pack guards them against being dried-out or soggy whether in sunshine or rain.

As a favor to your throat try Camels—join the throng and switch over for just one day—then quit them, if you can.

Beauty Fashions

A PRACTICAL WORK GARMENT. 7237. The pajamas have invaded the house work department of the home, with advantages that will readily appeal to the woman who appreciates comfort and convenience while at work. In this pleasing model, the jacket, blouse and skirt are separate, but may be joined so as to make a one-piece garment. The trousers are cut with comfortable fullness. The blouse is faced and turned back to form revers that make a rolled collar in notches. The sleeves are short and comfortable. Designed in five sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size will require 4 3/4 yards of 35-inch material if made as a two-piece garment. If as a one-piece garment 4 1/2 yards will be required. Jacket blouse alone will require 2 yards. The trousers alone will require 2 1/2 yards of 35-inch material without nap. Collar, belt, and facings of contrasting material will require 2 1/2 yard 36 inches wide, and cut crosswise. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A POPULAR STYLE. 7203. Two-piece frocks are much in vogue this season. The model here portrayed may be finished with or without sleeves. The blouse is made with surplus closing. The fronts are faced and turn back to form revers that join a broad collar—in cape effect over the back. The skirt is a two-piece flare style. Designed in five sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size will require 5 1/2 yards of 35-inch material if made with sleeves. Without sleeves 4 5/8 yards will be required. For vest and sash of contrasting material 1 1/2 yard of 35-inch material will be required. For plaiting 1 1/2 yard will be required cut in 2 1/2-inch stripes and measuring 7 1/2 yards in length. Of ready-made machine plaiting 5 1/2 yards will be required. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is about 2 7/8 inches. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A PRETTY FROCK FOR THE GROWING GIRL. 7243. Crepe de chine is suggested for this model—in white or soft pastel shades. It is also recommended for chiffon or printed silk. In organdie too, the dress will develop pleasingly. The front of the graceful cape collar is cut in one piece and panel to which side portions are joined. The skirt portions are cut to flare. The sleeve may be omitted. An sleeveless dress in four sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 will require 2 5/8 yards of 35-inch material if made with sleeves. If made without sleeves 2 yards will be required. To finish with bias binding or piping 2 1/2 yards will be required 1 1/2 inches wide. The sash of ribbon will require 2 yards. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

"The Sigh and Kick of Psychic."

In contract, to a greater extent than in any other game I know, it is possible to win with bad cards. I am running a great risk of starting an epidemic of foolish psychic bids by even introducing the subject of psychic or skillful bluff bidding in this series. There has been some confusion on two points: one dealing with the ethics of psychic bids and the other dealing with idiotic bluff bids.

Surprise tactics are perfectly ethical and are sanctioned among the best players, provided no private understanding of any kind exists between partners. It is the basis of Card Constitution that anyone has a right to bid and play his hand as he sees fit; it is the basis of Card Ethics that a private understanding between partners, be it even tacit, is a gross violation of the code of sportsmanship amounting to cheating. With this stringent proviso surprise bids are a legitimate and interesting part of Contract tactics. They are eminently fair because in attempting to misinform the opponents, the same, and sometimes even greater, chance is taken of misleading the partner.

The writer has always objected to the so-called fake bids indulged in by premature Bridge psychologists, which consist in bidding a suit, of which the player holds but a singleton, in the hope of confusing the opponents. This objection, however, is voiced not on the grounds of ethics but on the grounds of stupidity. For instance, a fake bid of one spade with a hand such as

Spade — — —
Heart A K 7 6 4 3
Diamond A 9 8 2
Club K 5 4

is perfectly ethical but also moronic. A "psychic" is especially effective when employed against such unskilful bidders as held the East-West cards in the following case:

Contract Deal—No score
East-West vulnerable
North-South not vulnerable
North—Dealer

♠	K 6 5 4	♠	K 5 4
♥	J 10 5 4	♥	J 10 5 4
♦	10 7 5	♦	10 7 5
♣	A 2	♣	A 2
♠	A 8 2	♠	A 8 2
♥	K 2	♥	K 2
♦	A 10	♦	A 10
♣	9 8 3	♣	9 8 3

North passed and East, being a quick-trick bidder rather than an honor-trick bidder and requiring at least a trick in the bid suit, passed, although, had he been playing the Approach Forcing System, he would have bid one heart. All passed up to West who, Fourth Hand, bid one club. North passed and the weak East now bid one heart.

South, at this point, decided that if anything was going to be done about the game which was evidently looming up against his side, it had to be done at this point and without any excuse in the world except an overwhelming desire to annoy; as much as possible, a pair of notches, he bid two hearts and North, with ample strength to do so, assisted his partner's psychic flight by bidding three diamonds.

East then supported the clubs. South passed and West, opposite a partner who had passed originally, saw in his King deuce of diamonds and two spade losers the possibility of going down a trick even on a bid of four clubs, and also passed. The deal was played at four clubs. Declarer took 6 tricks odd but scored only the partial score of 80 points below the one and 100 to over-tricks.

The bidding should have been as follows:

North	East	South	West
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	3 ♠ (1)
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	5 ♠	Pass	Pass (2)

1—A Forcing Takeout, a bid of one more than necessary for a regulation Takeout, forcing the partnership to keep the bidding open until at least a game declaration is reached. The East-West hands have shown not less than 5 1-2 honor-tricks; 2 1-2 by East's bid of one heart and 3 by West's Forcing bid. The 5 1-2 honor-tricks indicated are usually sufficient to produce game. (Rule of Eight.)

2—A daring West would bid for the Slam but he cannot be sure that East's Opening bid, showing 2 1-2 tricks, was not based upon some such holding as the following:

Spade K x
Heart K J x x x
Diamond A x x
Club x x x x

in which case a Slam contract might be set.

After keeping the East-West pair out of a game and possibly a Slam, North and South took a game, then set East and West 6 points and finally won a 500 rubber, giving them a profit of not less than 1,800 points. The fact that with 13 high-card trumps at any game!

QUESTIONS ANSWERED. Mr. Culbertson will be glad to answer questions on bidding and play of hands sent in by readers. Address him in care of The Constitution, enclosing a two-cent stamped self-addressed envelope.

Tribal Festivities Featured at Camp Toccoa

TOCCOA, Ga., July 7.—Camp Fire Girls spending this week at Camp Toccoa, will be divided into Indian tribes, and tribal festivities will be in order every day. The Cherokee inhabitants will make a pilgrimage to the Seminole tribe and take up their abode, and the Seminoles will follow the Winnapa trail to the Ocmulgee village, casting their tents and preparing to spend a week there.

Horseback riding and tennis have been added to the activities, with Miss Joyce Stead and Miss Frances Fowler instructing in tennis and Miss Martha Smith in horseback riding. Another double tennis court has been added and a tennis tournament will be held Saturday, July 11. Indian dances will be held, culminating in pow-wows and a pageant will be presented under the direction of Miss Leila Stipe, dancing teacher. Thursday, July 8, the entire camp will make a trip to Lakemont, spending the afternoon and evening there. Water sports and organized hikes will feature this trip.

Saturday evening, July 11, a council fire will be held on Gypsy Hill under the direction of Miss Edith Higgins, head councillor of the senior group, and ranks and honors that have been earned at camp will be awarded. P. C. Fattig, of Emory University, gave an interesting lecture on "Insects and Their Habits," and he conducted a nature hike. The May fly, a very rare insect, was found, and a collection of these flies is being made for Mr. Fattig to send to Cornell entomology department.

Miss Eleanor Davis is at Camp Toccoa for two weeks, and will conduct hiking during her stay at camp. Camp Toccoa covers 200 acres of beautiful forested land and mountains, and there are many picturesque spots to be discovered along the trails.

Senator Peterson Will Lecture

Senator Hugh Peterson, chairman of the legislative reorganization committee, has been invited to address the weekly meeting of the Woman's Legislative Council, on Thursday, July 9, at 10 o'clock, in the Sunday school room of the Second Baptist church. A resolution was passed at the recent meeting of the council providing for the study of some important measure and discussion followed by an address by some legislator at the weekly meeting of the council. Mrs. Wellington Stevenson, chairman, requests interested women to clip and preserve the full report of the reorganization committee carried in the Atlanta papers of Sunday, July 5. If this report is carefully studied and compared with the other reports made during the past year, as well as with the reorganized governments of other states now functioning successfully, citizens of Georgia may get a clearer idea of what is proposed, and may be in a position to aid constructively in the simplification of Georgia's government. The recent election of Miss Peterson as chairman, Mr. R. H. Hankinson, of McDonough, vice chairman, Mrs. W. F. Trench, secretary, and B. L. D. T. Quinby, treasurer, those officers to be inducted into office at the last weekly meeting in August after the adjournment of the general assembly. The organizations forming the membership of the council are represented on the council by the state president and the chairman of legislation. Groups of women in every county in Georgia are encouraged to study and discuss affairs of state with their local legislators and to keep in close touch with their representatives on the council.

Chapman Hits Home Run as Crackers Rally To Beat Vols, 4-1; Sixteen Atlantans Qualify for Title Flight in State Meet

Thumbing over a 43-year-old copy of The Atlanta Constitution sent in by a correspondent revealed a rather embarrassing situation. Perhaps the skeleton should not be brought out at this time, yet a skeleton 43 years old cannot do a great deal of harm.

It seems that in those days Birmingham was a booming town in the Southern league and hoped to get Atlanta sportsmen interested in the game of baseball. So to this end—and to pick up some small change on the side—one John Patrick brought his Birmingham club over to Atlanta to meet the Washington Nationals in an exhibition game. Did you ever dream that Birmingham of all places ever sent baseball missionaries to convert Atlanta? That's tough.

ALL THE DIRT.
"Hank" O'Day was the Washington pitcher and his side won easily, 17 to 3. The game was called at the end of the sixth on account of darkness—Ah, me, the good old days of fast baseball!

The Constitution's account, written in the leisurely style of the period, did not mention the score; the reader gleaned it from an abbreviated box score appended. The report of the game follows:

There was baseball in Atlanta yesterday, and there was an indescribable longing in the hearts of enthusiasts as they gazed upon the fading beauties of Athletic park and realized that Atlanta would be without baseball this year.

John Patrick was in his glory. That eminent and good man came over with his Birmingham cohorts to show the people of the benighted Gate City what good ball playing really is. He came, he saw, and although he was on the losing side he captured the crowd. Then there was "Reddy" Bittman, Tom Sullivan, Lynch, Duffee, Brennan, Burke and other players who have made reputations in the Southern league.

Manager Goldsby was detained in Birmingham by the meeting of the Southern league.

He has a little schedule in the interest of Birmingham which he wants to have adopted.

A familiar figure was that of the famous Chicago politician, "Hank" O'Day. Hank pitched for Washington. The last time he occupied the points in Atlanta it was as the business end of a Savannah battery and the grounds upon that occasion were too small to hold the crowd.

It was different yesterday. Ninety-nine out of every hundred thought, at noon, that it would rain during the afternoon and many were deterred on that account from going on to the grounds. The weather was not such as would inspire players to anything like super-human efforts and the game was not as interesting as that between the same clubs today will be.

There is not much to say about the game proper. The Washington players had no difficulty in hitting Sullivan's curves and the "Senators" won easily. It was Sullivan's first game this season and he was sensible in not exerting himself. Baily was slow in throwing to bases. Cahill distinguished himself by making several pretty steps and throws, and his double the first time he came to the bat set the crowd wild. Burke made some good stops and throws, which show him to be one of the best men in the Birmingham club.

Washington had everything its way. O'Day pitched well when he tried to pitch and was beautifully supported by Dealley. O'Brien's first base play and Hoy's running catch of what looked like a double were features of the game.

At the close of the sixth inning the game was called on account of darkness.

Further perusal of the files of that period revealed that Atlanta never got into the league. Birmingham, New Orleans, Memphis and Charleston started, but the organization blew up in midseason.

SALARY TROUBLES.
Excessive salaries paid players was given as the cause of the flop. The Constitution says of the demise of the league in July: "The salaries paid Manager Goldsby ($325) and Tom Sullivan ($275), of Birmingham, for instance, were entirely out of proportion to the empty benches in the Birmingham park."

A reorganization was suggested to compel each club to carry at least eight players who had never before played professional ball. So the present "Class B" rule in the Southern league really is old stuff in principle.

THEY HAD LADIES' DAYS.
One also finds that Atlanta did get into baseball, however. It belonged to the Cracker league, which included Savannah, Columbus and Augusta. The league finished its season.

Ladies were admitted free to "Athletic Park" on certain days, which also shows that we have evolved little new—except night baseball.

Just suppose, for instance, you had suggested to Manager Goldsby, John Patrick, "Hank" O'Day and several other diamond figures of that era that right here in Atlanta baseball would be played at night with 10,000 people in attendance within 45 years. They would have looked at each other and tapped the head with the forefinger, indicating the speaker had "hats in his belly"—I think that was the expression.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS.
In the edition of The Constitution from which the Washington-Birmingham exhibition game was copied are printed other items of interest.

The United States supreme court ruled the telephone to be the invention of Alexander Graham Bell. . . Emperor Frederick announced his succession to the throne of Germany; Crown Prince William (the kaiser to you) was indisposed at the time. . . John L. Sullivan and Charlie Mitchell were fined eight pounds sterling and costs in a French court for participating in a prize fight. . . Robert Edson played a minor part in "A Night Off" at the DeGue opera house, and, according to the reviewer, "undoubtedly has a brilliant future." . . Eggs were 12 1/2 cents, butter 20 cents, spot cotton 9.82.

CRACKERS BEAT VOLUNTEERS, 4-1, IN THIRD GAME

Chapman Hits Home Run in Eighth With Carlyle on Base.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 7.—Old Jughandle Johnny Morrison stuck his eye dropper into the jug of base hits here Tuesday night and dripped out exactly six to the Nashville Vols as he snapped their three-game winning streak with a 4-to-1 setback. Johnny just dripped these base hits, and he didn't drop more than one at a time. He allowed one per inning for the first three frames, refused in the fourth, and gave in to his liberality to permit one each in the fifth, sixth and seventh. In the eighth and ninth he retired the locals in order. Morrison's own error aided in the scoring of the Volunteers' lone run, which came in the second inning. With one away, Oberholzer doubled to right center, and went to third on a throw from the pitcher. He nipped him off second. He scored on Treadwell's fly to left.

While the Klugmans were lowering their batting averages in facing that jughandle John, the Dobbys were fanning little better off Gorgeous George Miltstead. They gathered but seven hits, one more than the home-ings, but did the old trick of capitalizing.

A walk to Shirley, Carlyle's single and a one-bagger by O'Connell tied the score in the fourth, and it remained knotted until the seventh, when Johnny Ryan led off with a smashing double to left, advanced to O'Connell's fly to center and scored as Morrison grounded to Treadwell dropping the throw at the plate.

Johnny Chapman slipped the game further in the bag with a homer in the eighth that scored Roy Carlyle ahead of him. The game in detail: FIRST INNING. Crackers—Shirley singled, out to Rodda to Klugman on the first pitch. Barnes grounded out, Oberholzer to Klugman. Tait fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING. Vols—Bennett grounded out, Sheehan to Shirley. Klugman grounded out, Sheehan to Shirley. Mowery tripled off the top of the right-field wall. It fell back into the lot. Clabaugh fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING. Crackers—O'Connell flied out to Bennett. Morrison singled off Miltstead's pitch. Morrison took second on a wild pitch. Sheehan walked. Barnes popped out to Rodda. Tait fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FOURTH INNING. Vols—Bennett was called out on strikes. Klugman singled to left. Mowery forced Klugman at second. Rodda to Emmer. Chapman stole second. Chapman bled out to Rodda. Tait fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FIFTH INNING. Crackers—O'Connell flied out to Bennett. Morrison singled off Miltstead's pitch. Morrison took second on a wild pitch. Sheehan walked. Barnes popped out to Rodda. Tait fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING. Crackers—Shirley walked. O'Connell flied out to Bennett. Morrison singled off Miltstead's pitch. Morrison took second on a wild pitch. Sheehan walked. Barnes popped out to Rodda. Tait fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING. Vols—Bennett was called out on strikes. Klugman singled to left. Mowery forced Klugman at second. Rodda to Emmer. Chapman stole second. Chapman bled out to Rodda. Tait fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

NINTH INNING. Vols—Bennett was called out on strikes. Klugman singled to left. Mowery forced Klugman at second. Rodda to Emmer. Chapman stole second. Chapman bled out to Rodda. Tait fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

President Hoover Sees Macks Go 5 1/2 Games Ahead.

By Dixon Stewart, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, playing before President Hoover and other notables, increased their American league leadership to five and one-half games today by defeating the Washington Senators, 7 to 3.

Mr. Hoover sat beside Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, as the Athletics strengthened their campaign for their third consecutive American and world's championships. A defeat would have cut the Philadelphia lead to three and one-half games over the Senators.

George Earnshaw was the outstanding hero of today's game. Two days ago the strong-armed right hander was whipped by Washington, but came back today apparently fresh as ever and allowed but eight scattered hits. Trailing, 1 to 2, when they went to bat in the seventh, the Athletics broke loose with a three-run rally and just to make sure added another trio of runs in the ninth.

BROWNS BEATEN.
In the only other American league game played, the Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns in 12 innings, 10 to 8. Kimsey sent the contest into extra innings in the ninth when he pitched his home run tie score. It was the fourth home run the Browns had made during the game.

The double header scheduled between Boston and New York was postponed because of rain, while Detroit and Cleveland were idle.

The St. Louis Cardinals suffered two early setbacks as the Cubs have their National league leadership over the second-place New York Giants reduced to three games. The twin victory enabled the Cubs to take third place, 92 1/2 percentage points ahead of Brooklyn and only a half a game behind the Giants.

The Cubs pounded Hallahan and Johnson in the first contest to win, 14 to 2, behind the seven-hit pitching of Charles Root. Hack Wilson, with four singles in five times at bat, led the assault on the Cardinal hurlers.

RHEM WEAKENS.
Flint Rhem held the Cubs at bay in the second game until he weakened in the eighth inning as Chicago scored three runs to cup a 6-to-3 decision.

Brooklyn defeated Philadelphia, 5 to 1, in the other National league contest. Phelps and Quinn held the Phillies to nine hits while their mates hit four.

The double header scheduled between New York and Boston was postponed because of rain. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were out of the running.

Whitney's Horses Win in Big Races

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—The light horse and broodmare top silks of C. M. Whitney played an important role in the feature races of the American turf today as Avenger, a set back as Preston M. Burch's Tambour, winner of the Coaching Club American Oaks at Belmont Park, was made the 1-to-3 favorite. Tambour, as usual, cut out the running but Sunny Workman ground fast with the Whitney pair in the drive for home and set up in time to win by a neck. Fifteen lengths back of Avenger, which paid 3 to 1, followed G. B. Dioguardi's 190-to-1 shot, Willie D. to take the show from the Belair city. Pecos, the only other starter. Elysium was made the even money favorite but he was forced to come from behind in the stretch to overtake Avenger's lead, which led at one time in the stretch by four lengths.

Overly, W. H. Whitehouse's consistent 1 1/2-year-old filly, topped only as a Latonia Oaks possibility when she showed the way home to a good hand of older sprinters in the Sedonaville filly purse. She led the Greentable Justinian and Baylor Hickman's Fairy Ring to the wire in 1:12 3/5 for the six furlongs. The Whitehouse mare paid $8.75.

Willis Sharpe Kilmer's 6-year-old handicap performer, Sun Beau, made an effort to give a band of speedy rivals 11 or more pounds but finished third to the Lemar Stock Farm's Morsel and H. M. Woolf's Bear Man in the Iowa handicap at Arlington Park. It was Sun Beau's first start since winning the Philadelphia handicap at Havre de Grace and although he made up considerable ground in the stretch, he could not catch the leaders.

Best Man set the early pace but was a half length back of Morsel in the finish of the mile, which was run in 1:36 1/5. Morsel paid $10.22.

U. S., Norway Battle For Yacht Gold Cup

GOTHENBURG, Sweden, July 7.—(AP)—The gold cup races for six-meter yachts tonight had resolved itself into a duel between the American yacht, Cherokee, and the Norwegian boat, Abu.

Today's competition saw the Abu whip the Swedish entry, Ian, by 24 seconds, with the Cherokee tied.

It was the Abu's second victory in the three races sailed, the other having gone to the Cherokee. Sweden, the defending champion, failed to win a heat and thus was eliminated from further competition. The Abu and the Cherokee will clash tomorrow, the cup going to the boat first winning three races.

Accidental Start Sends Jacobs to Peak In Fistic Circles

By Ralph McGill.

Joe Jacobs, now that he is managing his third world's champion, becomes the fight game's most prominent person along managerial row.

Yusell muscled Mike McTigue into the light-heavyweight championship and kept him there for quite a while. He later took Andre Routis, Frenchman, into the featherweight title. And it was Yusell who climbed into the ring last summer, shouting at the referee and tugging at his shirt, to get the decision for Max Schmeling.

Now that Max Schmeling has definitely proved himself to be a real champion, Jacobs is in possession of the richest prize the cauliflower business knows—a popular heavyweight champion. They are the boys who bring in great loads of what Joe Jacobs persists in calling the old cocoanut money.

A few short days ago, while sitting in one of the steamer chairs on Max Schmeling's front lawn at Connaught Lake Park with the caskets of the morticians' convention sitting nearby and yawning, I asked Joe Jacobs how in the world he happened to get into the fight business.

"An accident," he said. "After the war I wasn't doing much of anything. I had a friend who was fighting around the small clubs. I used to go with him and take care of his money when he was in the ring. He got pretty good and I started as his manager."

"That was better than working so I looked around and got me another fighter. He wasn't so much but we made a little money. And I made some friends. And connections. And when the opportunity came to manage Mike McTigue I took it. I had learned a lot then. I am still learning. Or, what I don't know about the game."

SMARTEST GUY.
Jacobs is probably the smartest manager in the game today. It takes a sharp eye to know all the angles to the racket to know when to trade, to know who can be trusted today and who can tomorrow.

Joe is the product of the sophisticated mans of New York where the competition in the fight game has been of the cut-throat variety with only the fittest surviving.

Whether he covered up his slasher, Max Schmeling, in the training camp, or whether Schmeling is the type who looks like a mug in the gym, is a mystery. Suffice it to say that Schmeling looked very bad in training.

ALL BUT DEFENSE.
He showed that he was in marvelous physical condition. He showed that he lacked nerves. Back he looked defensively. Most anyone could hit him with a left. They not only could, as matter of fact, but did.

In the ring the left that had been nominated as the game's best, was blocked out completely. He was not able to get his right arm in training appeared a real champion in the ring. And that is where they pay off.

Schmeling is something of a curiosity in the modern game. The modern type prefers ten rounds or thereabouts. At ten rounds Schmeling is just getting going. He could probably fight 30 rounds as well as 15.

HERE'S INTEREST.
The autumn fight is pretty sure to go on. With Carnera. And it will be interesting to watch what the champion can do against the clubbing Italian.

If he can evade or take the clubbing for seven or eight rounds he will be able to batter the giant down. He gets stronger.

Last Friday night he was not even bluffing at the end of the 15th round knockout of W. L. Stirling.

Wrestlers Clash At Almand Tonight

An all-star wrestling card is slated at Almand park tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The feature will be a return match between Jack McAdams, Atlanta, and Sam Miller, Detroit. They will clash in a two-hour, two-out-of-three fall bout.

Eddie Wagner, navy champion, will take on Joe Rubley, of Atlanta, in a one-hour match. This will also be two falls out of three.

In the opening battle two Atlantans, Bill Collins and Jack English, will come together in a 30-minute, one-fall bout.

A hat royal will start the show. Popular prizes will prevail.

Big Six Sluggers Spend Quiet Day

Two hits was the sum total of the damage done by members of the Big Six to opposing pitchers in yesterday's curtailed program. Chuck Klein and Virgil Davis of the Phillies each achieved one hit in four attempts, while the other four members of the select circle were idle.

A hat royal will start the show. Popular prizes will prevail.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 7.—(AP)—Max Baer, California heavyweight boxer, will not have the blessing of his parents when he marries Dorothy Dunbar Wells de Garson, former actress, at Reno, Nev., tomorrow.

CHARLIE YATES TOPS GATE CITY GROUP WITH 79

McWilliams and Smith Tie for Medal Honors With 77's.

By Roy White, Staff Correspondent.

SFA ISLAND BEACH, Ga., July 7.—Kayton Smith, of Savannah, and Billy McWilliams, of Rome, with a pair of 77's, shared medal honors today on the Ocean View course in the qualifying rounds of the 14th annual Georgia amateur tournament. Their mark was five strokes over par.

Charlie Yates Jr., East Lake club star, who was a semifinalist in the recent Southern amateur, set the pace during the morning with a 79, but the medalists came back strong in the late afternoon to overtake the Atlantaers.

LEADS ATLANTA.
Yates' score led the Atlanta entries, which included more than 754 of the city's best with Charlie Black Jr. well up among the leaders with an 81. There were 140 entries, but after a devastating first round many of the entries picked up or failed to turn in cards and only one of the 129 cards turned in was left out of the tournament.

Sixteen Atlanta golfers qualified in the championship division, which was headed by Dave Black, and at least four of the number are certain to be eliminated today. Dr. W. C. Warren Jr. meets John Grant Jr., Berrien Moore Jr., plays Chip Robert Jr., Charles Dannels Jr., plays Carroll Lattin, and W. C. Moore, at 87 each, and Jim Olson plays Sam Comley, another All-Capital City pair, in the off-Atlanta twosomes in the first round.

Dave Black starts defense of his crown against H. C. Summerlin, of Fort Benning.

CLUB SCORES.
With Kayton's mark as the leader, the Savannah Country Club won the team trophy with a score of 327. Valdosta, Ga., followed with 330. Atlanta, representing in the trophy family included, Dr. W. C. Warren Jr. with a 332, East Lake Club, of Atlanta, was third with 339. Dr. W. C. Moore, at 87 each, and Jim Olson plays Sam Comley, another All-Capital City pair, in the off-Atlanta twosomes in the first round.

There were a dozen clubs, including East Lake, Druid Hills, Capital City, Charles Dannels Jr., plays Carroll Lattin, and W. C. Moore, at 87 each, and Jim Olson plays Sam Comley, another All-Capital City pair, in the off-Atlanta twosomes in the first round.

A blistering hot sun, particularly in the morning, and the long arms of the white sand traps that reached eagerly out to grab every stray ball, sent scores unusually high for Georgia golfers.

When the final returns were in there were 37 players with scores of 87 or better, including Dave Black, of Atlanta, defending champion, who was exempt from qualifying.

ATLANTA'S BATTLE.
Four Atlantaers, R. Hunter, Dr. Ben Jones, S. P. Cumler and Julius Hughes, were tied with W. M. Oliver, of Valdosta; R. M. Soule, of Athens, and Wells Moore, at 87 each, and Jim Olson

80,000 STORM
WRIGLEY FIELD
FOR CUB GAMEOne Man Killed in Rush
To See Double-Header.

CHICAGO, July 7. (AP)—More than 80,000 persons, the biggest crowd in the history of Cubs' field, tried today to jam their way into the North Side ball park to see Rogers Hornsby's team meet the league leading St. Louis Cardinals in a doubleheader.

So great was the crush that one fan, Arthur Breiher, of Cornell, Ill., died of exhaustion immediately after fighting his way to one of the choice grandstand seats.

There were 50,000 paid admissions for the games, both of which the Cubs won. But in addition to the 50,000 who crowded into the park there were, police estimated, more than 30,000 who failed to get in and who milled about for several hours in surrounding streets. The park, built to hold 42,000, was so full the crowd overflowed all over the field.

The crowd was far larger even than those during the world series in which the Cubs played in 1929. This, park officials said, was because in 1929 the seats were sold in advance and those without tickets knew it was no use to try to get in.

ROBINS 5, PHILS 1.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—Timely hitting behind the steady pitching of Babe Phelps gave the Brooklyn Robins a 5-1 triumph over the Phils today and squared the series. The victory pulled the Robins within a half game of second place.

Fin drove in the first Brooklyn run in the second with an outfield fly and Babe Herman sent two more across in the third with a double after Frederick and Gilbert had walked. Successive singles by Wright and Lopez after O'Doul had walked brought in the last two in the sixth.

The Phils scored their lone run off Phelps in the eighth on McCurdy's single. Lee hit to right and Bartlett's outfield fly.

SANDLOTTERS BEGIN OPENING ROUND OF PLAY

One-Hit Game, 12-Inning Contest Feature Tuesday Program.

Atlanta's sandlot teams began the first round of elimination tournament to decide the city's representative in the American Legion state tournament Tuesday with six games.

The same teams will play again Thursday morning, as the tournament is being conducted on a two-out-of-three basis, and no team is eliminated without losing two contests. The winners in Tuesday's games need only one more victory over the losers to go into the second round of the eliminations.

The most decisive victory of the day was by the South Side Robins, who beat Madison Park, 14 to 0. Pitcher Towns held the losers to one hit.

A close contest resulted when the Robins defeated the Fulton Blues, 4 to 3, in 12 innings.

The Robins' victory was a decisive one. It required 12 innings to reach a decision in the Fulton Blues-Devils game, won by the Robins, 4 to 3, in 12 innings. A fast double play saved the game for the Robins, killing the winning score.

For example, Von Elm picked up 14 strokes on Burke on the first and last holes of the Inverness course. That ordinarily would have been more than enough to crush his opponent.

But he lost 13 strokes to Burke on the In-between holes.

There was another dizzy episode on the final day. In the forenoon Burke was leading by four strokes and seemed to be pulling away. Von Elm looked to be doomed. Whereupon he suddenly turned and picked up six strokes on the next three holes with 3-2 against Burke's 5-3. Within the hour Burke looked to be the doomed one.

They were like two game but groggy fighters refusing to stay down, refusing to quit, the groggy one suddenly turning to land a punishing blow to kill off his opponent's leading margin.

There was as much sheer grit, gameness and determination in this match as anything sport has known, for the main punishment here was thrown against the nerves and the brain.

The Big Feature.

The big feature of the match was Burke's afternoon round. He had played something like 30 rounds of golf in a little more than two weeks, right on edge, and few believed that he could hold this peak through the second play-off. He had started away raggedly in the forenoon, to lose three strokes on the first two holes.

He had finished one stroke back, a trifle ragged on the stretch, and looking to be well worn out. But he showed the signs of a bad crash in the afternoon. The odds at this point were all with Von Elm, starting with a one-stroke lead and somewhat stronger and fresher.

But in some manner Burke came out the first tee for the last 18. He looked as fresh and as keen as he could have looked two weeks ago. He started 4-3-3-3 and he might just as well have started 3-2-3, since he was putting for birdies on every hole, not so far away, the ball dropping twice and just circling the lip on the other two occasions.

It must have been something of a shock to Von Elm to find what had been a weary and almost tottering opponent down the forenoon stretch, suddenly back at the peak again.

It was just as if a kitten had turned into a tiger. Yet Von Elm held on against this unexpected turn as Burke reeled off a 34 for the first nine. He had two putts for a 70 and he could have gotten down in four if he had needed to do so, which, under all conditions and circumstances, he would have done as one of the most remarkable golf rounds ever played.

A Few Examples.

Here are just two examples of how quickly and bewilderingly the scene changed. At the second hole of the first round Burke was in the open and Von Elm was trapped. Burke seemed to be on his way to pick up a stroke. A moment later Burke hooked his second to a trap. Von Elm reached the green to get his 3, while Burke was taking a 5. A 3-stroke switch in the twinkling of an eye.

Later on the situation just reversed itself. Burke hooked to a bad spot in the trap on his second. Von Elm struck an iron that flew straight for the pin.

"He'll have a putt for a 3, and maybe pick up two strokes," Mac Smith remarked as the ball was in the air.

But the ball flew over the green. Burke made a great recovery, and with a 4 against a 6 it was Burke that picked up the two strokes.

These two examples show you how events developed through the two-day play-off. They kept the crowd dazed and dizzy as almost certain advantages were turned the other way over just the slightest mistakes.

I think one of the great strokes Burke played came on the 11th hole of the final round. He was leading two strokes, with two holes left to play. Burke was just on the green, 45 feet from the cup. Von Elm had an 8-foot putt for a 3. He might easily pick up two strokes again and square the match if Burke faltered.

But the Round Hill entry laid his long approach putt stone dead, less than an inch away, which, as the situation stood, locked the door at last in Von Elm's favor.

At all in all, it was a championship test that will never be forgotten. Enduring naming a new open champion, it also showed the amazing varieties that go to make up golf.

So far as records show, there has never been a golf match in the history of the game which demonstrated so well the uncertainties of golf, the very soul of golf, as the battle between Billy Burke and George Von Elm.

In the first place, it must go down as a record

NEW YORK, July 7.—The eagerness with which stocks were sold today would appear to indicate that the final acceptance of the Hoover debt plan by the French government was a calamity instead of one of the great constructive steps in world finance. The rush to sell stock on the theory that the good news was out was so great that the competitive selling resulted in net losses of from 3 to 10 points in the standard issues. Except for monetary strength at the opening the selling continued throughout the session, final quotations being around the lowest.

The heaviness of the general list in the face of the favorable news was a source of much disappointment and many speculators threw over their stocks in disgust. The break of nearly 10 points in J. I. Case, in which a bull group has been operating, furnished one of the high spots in the day's decline. The railroad group was featured with a decline of more than 8 points in Atchafalaya.

Westinghouse Electric, another bull favorite, dropped nearly 5 points and Steel common lost more than 4. The break in prices was also helped by the renewal of short selling. Good buying came into the market although the day's decline. The railroad group was featured with a decline of more than 8 points in Atchafalaya.

A considerable amount of European selling appeared in the market from the outset of business. All important European financial centers were reported as sellers of American stocks. One house with important European connections was reported to have sold a total of 250,000 shares of various good American stocks.

No reasons accompanied this foreign selling and the Street was quick to assume that the foreigners had some news of an unfavorable nature which had not developed in America. This, however, was denied although one large Spanish bank suspended payments.

Important banking interests continued to maintain that the putting into effect of the moratorium was the biggest constructive step that could have been taken at this time inasmuch as it prevented the utter demoralization of the credit situation in Germany. They add that there will be constructive announcements from time to time of credits being extended to European countries and whenever financial difficulties appear.

The first of these constructive developments will be the extension of the $100,000,000 German credit, which expires on July 16.

BULLS STAND PAT.

One of the biggest constructive groups, which has recently taken a prominent part on the bull side, continues to express confidence in the general stock market and has taken advantage of the break which occurred yesterday to add to its list of stocks others which it believes should experience a sharp recovery. One of these is American Telephone & Telegraph, which it has been accumulating. Another is Consolidated Gas. This speculative group has plenty of money that was taken out of the short side of the market the last 18 months and has a high following.

National Biscuit which during the last week had been heavy on the market was firm today in the face of the general weakness. The professional bears who sold this stock at higher levels were taking their contracts today. There was also reported to have been good buying of the chain store companies had been asking for lower prices on National Biscuit's products.

The figures on car loadings expected to be announced today were reported as showing a substantial increase over the preceding week. This, however, did not prevent liberal offerings of the railroad stocks, which are expected to show poor earnings this year. The common carriers are not expected to show any material results this year in the way of improved earnings because the rate decision is not expected until fall.

Much of the hopefulness entertained by owners of oil stocks was dissipated when the Standard Oil of New Jersey announced a reduction of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline. Coming at a time when the consumption of gasoline is heaviest, this reduction was extremely discouraging, and Standard Oil of New Jersey lost nearly two points.

BANK OF CATALONIA SUSPENDS BUSINESS

BARCELONA, July 7.—(AP)—The Bank of Catalonia, one of the largest in Spain, suspended payments today, attributing its difficulties to the economic depression. Its assets were listed at approximately $37,000,000, and its liabilities at $33,000,000.

The bank failed to open this morning. Officials say they can cover the liabilities. The suspension was regarded by Madrid bankers as a precautionary measure because of economic conditions.
